Thinking Out Loud

(By H. M. L.)

Dr. Townsend by the simple expedient of "walking out" on the Congressional investigating committee which was gaily spending something like $100,000 of the people's money, in the hope of turning up something that would put a jinx on the Townsend hysteria, has reduced that committee to a pitiful condition of impotence. The investigation, of course, like a lot of others staged recently by the subservient congress, was for political effect only. It was intended to relieve the Townsend pressure. Instead of that, by Dr. Townsend's one man rebellion, the pressure was redoubled. To try him before the House for contempt, which is honestly shared by millions of other citizens, will delay adjournment and martyrize the venerable visionary. and to try him in the courts will not only martyrize him, but will destroy all effect such a trial might have on the fortunes of House candidates who seek re-election.

And what do the revelations made by the Bell committee, thus far, amount to? The committee has discovered in brief, that Dr. Townsend and some of his very practical minded aids have been boondoggling at the expense of the legions of dime and nickel adherents. This for Dr. Townsend of course is a monstrous crime. The fact that the Federal government has frittered many a million (witness the Passamaquoddy tide harnessing project and the Florida ship canal) and has spent money with both hands (PWA and WPA) to insure another four year tenure for deserving Democrats, does not excuse Dr. Townsend in the eyes of his righteous investigators for having diverted a few thousand dollars from the river of small change into the pockets of himself and his aids.

The only worth while investigation of Dr. Townsend and what he does with all the money contributed by his deluded following, would be one instituted and conducted by his own supporters. But so far from any businesslike desire to know what becomes of their own money, his supporters rather tend to deify the old doctor. Already they link his name with that of Washington and Lincoln, and if the Bell Committee is ill advised enough to continue their persecution, they will presently find the Townsendites investing him with the robes and halo of one of the saints in glory.

This Congress has done many things to make itself ridiculous in the eyes of the American people. It has been subservient, answering the Farley whip cracking with abject bootlicking. It has been cowardly, passing act after act to pacify the farmers, the veterans and other minority groups. Of relief money spent in the South, the solid Democratic South, it has spent 93 per cent of Federal funds, and in the New England states with twice the population and the home of the Black Republicans the Federal contribution has been 52 per cent. In effect Congress has abdicated and the country is being governed from the post office building and the White House.

But this Townsend investigating committee is the slap stick comedian of the congressional farce. One wishes that Huey Long had lived to see it and comment on it in his own peculiar way. The fact that the committee takes itself seriously adds to the national hilarity, or, as the case may be, disgust. A committee of this kind could only be born of a futile, rubber-stamping aggregation whose only diversion in its dull servitude is the indoor sport of baiting and bedeviling their betters.

Millions of money wasted and purloined by political hangerson, is cloaked under the pious phrase of the President: "The hungry shall eat."

Counties and states that gladly shoved onto the Federal relief roll all the unemployables that even in normal times eke out a precarious existence, are now beginning to pay through the nose for shirking their own duty. WPA projects that the Federal government engaged to assist, with so many men and so much materials, are being light-heartedly abandoned or left up in the air to depend for completion on the hazard and chance that a political campaign may offer. Throughout the country municipalities and counties are being put to enormous expense to complete propects after the Federal government has broken its promises. Whether this is done through a settled policy eminating from Washington, or because of some whim of administrators raised from a down-at-heels unemployment status to the saddle and brass hat of a New Deal satrap, the result is the same. The people are finding themselves mulcted of their fond dreams of civic improvements, and obliged to dig deep into their jeans to pay the cost of New Deal welching.

DANCE SATURDAY NIGHT AT NORTH SAN JUAN HALL

The San Juan Ridge Improvement League will give a big dance tomorrow evening at North San Juan in the new Twamley Hall. Veterans of Foreign Wars will execute a bugle drill, the flag will be raised, and a salute sounded to the nation's heroic dead during the evening. The audience will stand at attention during this ceremony in observance of Decoration Day.

The music will be an unusual feature of the evening and is intended as a big surprise. The orchestra chosen to play is one of the best in Northern California. Whiskerinos of the entire country side are invited to join in the festivities and dancing.

Following the dance at 7:30 a. m. the school bus has been specially chartered to take thirty Whiskerinos to the Grass Valley rendevous of the Marysville Stampede motorade which will leave the Standard Oil station in Grass Valley at 9 o'clock Sunday morning. It is estimated that there will be seventy five private motor cars in this caravan from Nevada county to the Stampede grounds at Marysville.

WHISKERINOS MEET TONIGHT

The Whiskerinos will meet this evening at Armory hall where arrangements will be made for the big motorcade of 75 cars which will leave Nevada City and Grass Valley to attend the Marysville Stampede next Sunday morning. Those who wish to join this caravan of Whiskerinos are asked to communicate with Ted Janiss, Boss Whiskerino. The car owners are specially asked to meet in Grass Valley at the Standard Oil Station, Main and Auburn streets at 9 o'clock Sunday morning for the line up and start.

Frank Miller North San Juan Whiskerino, announces that the San Juan school bus will bring a capacity load of whiskerinos from the ridge and that all available cars of the district will be loaded up to join this Marysville Stampede motorcade. Both patrol wagons, of Nevada City and Grass Valley, will be pressed into service, and the entrance of the Whiskerino contingent into the Stampede grounds will be made with a flourish.

HIGH SCHOOL CONCERT POSTPONED TILL JUNE 4

Lacking the proper weather conditions for an outdoor musical concert, the Nevada City high school found it necessary to postpone the annual music event until next Thursday evening. Formerly scheduled for last night, the downpour of rain made it impossible to carry on with arrangements for an outdoor affair.

The program of vocal and instrumental numbers will be presented in full, however, next Thursday evening at Seaman's Lodge unless the inclement weather continues.

The choral selections, chosen by Mrs. Marian Libby, for her vocal classes to sing on this occasion are as follows: A group of songs of the sea, including "Shipmates," "Capital Ship," "Sailing," and "We Saw the Sea." A group of old songs including "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," "The Quilting Party," and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," and a selection from the A Capella repertoire, "Filii et Felice."

TRUE DRIFT GRAVEL MINE

Mr. P. A. Bigelow of North Columbia sunk a 75 foot shaft on his property the True Drift, and has just let a contract to cross cut to a well defined channel. This property is situated in one of Nevada county's richest gravel districts and it is felt a good producer will be brought in.

WATT PARK PURCHASE AIDED BY WHISKERINOS

Mr. Fred Conner and Mr. Ted Janiss of Nevada City attended a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce in Grass Valley Wednesday evening for the purpose of co-operating with Grass Valley in reducing the debt on Watt Park.

Mr. Janiss stated the Whiskerinos will co-operate 100 per cent. A dance is to be held at Lake Olympia June 20 and the proceeds, above expenses, will be turned over to aid the park. The Whiskerinos of Nevada City and Grass Valley plan to select baseball teams to play on Watt Park ball field June 21.

The Nevada City Whiskerinos will meet in Armory Hall tonight to select their team for the coming event.

GOVERNOR WILL RIDE IN GOLD RUSH PARADE

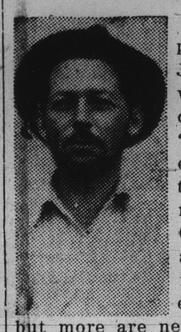
Governor Frank F. Merriam of California has accepted an invitation to lead the annual parade of the Auburn Forty Niners at the Gold Rush Revival, scheduled for June 6 and 7 in Auburn. His acceptance was received by general chairman James Nealis.

Wendell T. Robie chairman of the parade committee, expects the longest Pioneer Day procession in the history of the Gold Rush Revival on June 6.

Auburn already has the appearance of a frontier town, with whiskered men in every place of business. Boce Bob Mason of the Auburn Whiskerinos reports the greatest membership in the history of the organization.

This is the fourth Gold Rush Revival celebration in Auburn. The first was staged by a committee headed by W. A. Shepard in 1924 in connection with the national convention of mining engineers in Sacrameto.

'HOSS' RACES TO FEATURE SAN JUAN FESTIVAL



Frank Miller, empresario for the San Juan Cherry Carnival and Festival is out looking for "hosses" and riders. There is going to be a great "hoss" race at the Cherry Carnival June 13 and 14 and some fast nags have been entered in the event, but more are needed. The course will be about a half mile over the historic road followed by the stage coaches, and a good dirt road from Willow Springs into the center of North San Juan. There will be $50 or more offered in prizes and the entry fee will only be $2.50 so that those horsemen who know their steeds can win will have a cinch to make a little money in prizes besides what they may glean in the pari mutuels and side bets.

NEIGHBORLY CLUB MMETS

Viskers

Hey diddle diddle, der cat und der fiddle,
Dere's viskers on der moon.
On der knees of fleas und very old cheese
Und der face of der vild baboon.

For viskers now iss all der rage
Und men und boys of effery age
Are going around mit hairy face
Und mit der girls are in disgrace.

For viskers makes der tame man vild,
Also der tame man's vife.
Der quills dey scratch yust like a file
Und stir up family strife.

For vimmen thin, or vimmen stout
Hate viskers on dere beezers,
Und ven dey sprout dey yank 'em out

Mit looking glass und tveezers.
If der chin iss bare below der lips
Andy Larsen says der cure
Iss to rub vell in mit der finger tips
Chust a little fresh manure.

Carry der viskers mit pride und grace
Up mit der chin und out mit der lungs,
Either your face iss a credit to der race
O chust like der rest of der bums.

Ven der head gets soft, und der back gets veak
Und der vigor don't meet demands,
Ven der vimmen ignore you on der street
Something's der matter mit der glands.

Go to your doctor, und vot does he do
To bring back der pep und der friskiness?
He don't get glands from der kangaroo
He gets 'em from der goat mit der viskers.

My friend came home vun day at dusk,
For veeks und veeks he'd been avay,
His face vas hid mit so much brush
Dot who he vas no vun could say.

He vas bit mit his dog, his kids ran avay
Und his vife she started to yell
"Get avay from der house, und don't get gay!"
"Back to der voods! You look like hell!"

If forty niners came to life;
Came back to mother earth,
Vun look at us mit our disguise
They'd die again from mirth.

CAMPFIRE GIRLS HOLD BIG RALLY

The regular May meeting of Nesika Guardian Association was held at the home of Mrs. Frances Deane on Race street, Tuesday evening. A final check of the Rally Day, May 23, was taken. The second annual Rally was a big success. Over two-hundred and fifty girls of Placer, Nevada, and Yuba counties enjoyed the hospitality of the local groups. Thegirls and guardians extend their thanks to the citizens of Grass Valley and Nevada City for their support in helping to make the day go over the way it did. Local leaders feel that the encouragement given this National Junior Service Organization will be appreciated by the girls in later years and the communities will benefit by better citizens.

A joint picnic was planned for the local groups to be held June 10 at Memorial Park. Also plans were made for an old time social the last of June for the mothers and fathers of the girls of Camp Fire Girls.

The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Leland Smith in Nevada City. Final plans will be made for the girls who will attend camp the first week of August.

In order to increase the friendliness and co-operation between the Camp Fire groups of Placer and Nevada counties, the rally is held every year, the last one was held in Grass Valley on May 23, 1936. The Camp Fire groups of Grass Valley and Nevada City were hostesses to over two hundred girls, for that day. The program began with registration from 8:00-9:00 a. m. From 9:00 till 9:15 the Oneida group from Grass Valley had charge of the program, they presented an extremely amusing "Meller-drammer." From 9:15 till 10:00 Mrs. Bond took charge and gave the welcoming speech, she introduced all the guardians and their assistants from the different groups that were represented, among them Auburn, Loomis, Roseville, Newcastle, Lincoln, Grass Valley and Nevada City.

Then Doctor Hirsh of Grass Valley, honored speaker of the morning assembly, gave a instructive talk entitled "Astral Nursery Rymes." at 10:00 o'clock the groups assembled and paraded through the down town section. From 10:30 till 11:15 classes were held in the seven different crafts. At 11 the juniors left for Memorial Park to swim, while the senior girls were instructed in the art of folk dancing. A 12-1:00 lunch was eaten at Memorial Park. From 1 to 1:45 the girls were given free time in which to go sightseeing. At 1:45 assembly was held at Memorial Bldg. Knot tying contests were participated in and they were won by Uta Halie group of Grass Valley. At 2:15 the senior girls left for Memorial Park for their swimming period. While the juniors were given their folk dancing. During the afternoon several different sports were participated in, including tennis, baseball, swimming and badminton. The banquet was held at 5:30-6:30. At six the Grand Council Fire was held in Memorial building. A very impressive program was presented, and the fire was lit by the only two torchbearers present. They were Janet Snellings of Penryn and Joan Grant of Nevada City, the awards were presented, and at 8:45 the final song was sung. Everyone left with a feeling of having gained many friendships during the profitable day.

LITOGRAPH OF NEVADA CITY AT ALPHA STORES

Forty niner exhibits are commencing to appear in windows of local business houses and it was noted yesterday that a splendid lithograph of Nevada City in 1856 is on display in the Alpha Hardware store windows. It was "drawn from nature and on stone by Kuchel and Dresel." There were very few trees in the little city, Sugar Loaf mountain looms up in the background and closer examination reveals Broad street with one and two story buildings on each side.

A tricycle that has been in the Randolph Carter family 70 years is on display in the J. J. Jackson grocery store on Commercial street. It has wooden wheels with iron rims and spool like pedals. Another choice exhibit is the well preserved old English trap in the same exhibit. It has been in the J. J. Jackson family over 50 years. It is high off the ground and has two seats, the one in the back being reversible. A set of bells used on freight teams in early days and some old guns complete the fine display.

In the Chamber of Commerce rooms are pictures of illustrious pioneers of Nevada County, many of these men having filled important positions in the world as well as the local county.

Whiskerinos: Ted Janiss, L. W. Kopp, C. B. Merriam, Larry Landry, Jack Shelby, J. Pennelli, Leonard Johnson, Paul Faconi, R. J. Berggren.

Booting The Bootleggers

(Contributed)

That vicious era of big time crime that J. Edgar Hoover and his G-men have erased so completely began, you will recall, in the days of prohibition. From their illicit traffic, gangsters gained huge profits with which to buy protection and wield great power.

But though they've been crushed by repeal and the G-men, we have still to complete the job of wiping out bootlegging, carried on now not by gangsters, but by petty dodgers of alcohol taxes. The astonishing truth is that in California today, thirty per cent of all alcoholic beverages consumed is bootleg.

Quintuplet Tax

(Contributed)

Now that the quintuplets are two years old and everyone is wishing them a happy birthday this week, it is being whispered about that maybe they won't be having such a very happy birthday on account of what looms ahead.

Canadians, who sometimes copy new U. S. methods, are said to be considering a Quintuplet Tax. With all the movie money the quints have and some more also, they've become a pretty big business. And besides look how many there are.

If it's done the U. S. way, they'll only put a $40 tax on Marie. Yyonne will have to pay $80, and Cecile $200. All over three will be taxed $500, which will leave Annette and Emilie in a pretty bad spot, since they'll have to decide whether to leave home or go out of business.

You can scarcely blame the women of Canada, naturally resenting the efficiency of Mrs. Dionne, for organizing to push this Quintuplet Tax through Parliament. After all, the quints are getting more than their share of attention.

They'll have some competition from now on, of course, since those quadruplets have appeared in Passaic, New Jersey. These might escape any U. S. Quadruplet Tax, however, because if Congress voted to put a progressively higher levy on the first three and $500 for all over that, there'd be only one left who might have to go out of business.

But the least we can expect for the quadruplets will be a Congressional investigation. Meanwhile it will be interesting to watch how the Canadians come out on their Quintuplet Tax idea.

DR., MRS. HUMMELT WILL TAKE VACATION TOUR

Dr. and Mrs. B. W. Hummelt of Nevada City will leave Sunday for a month's vacation on a tour of the United States. Dr. and Mrs. Hummelt will take delivery of a car at Detroit and from there journey to New York, Washington, Philadelphia and many other places of interest. They have purchased a moving picture camera and will return with a choice lot of pictures of their trip.

In their absence Dr. W. S. Dinsmore, a capable physician of Oakland, will take charge of Dr. Hummelt's practice. He will be accompanied by his wife.

Aviator About To Land

HUB WHITEMAN, a Texas buckaroo—and one of the best there is—remembers very well when this picture was snapped as he was about to part company with Tin Ears, a very mean bronc. Whiteman is one of the top-notch riders to be seen in action at the great fourth annual California Stampede to be held at Marysville on May 30 and 31.

STAMPEDE, SHOW AT MARYSVILLE TO DRAW CROWD

MARYSVILLE, May 28.—Officials of the fourth annual California Stampede to be held in Marysville on May 30 and 31 today gave up an effort to find words with which to describe the two day show and contented themselves with the statement that the huge carnival of western sports, races and livestock meet is ready to justify every claim made for "America's fastest moving western show."

The three elements of the Stampede, rodeo, races and livestock show, is certain to be the greatest community event ever presented in the famous old city. Stampede performers booked for contest at the Flying J ranch on Saturday and Sunday are past, present and future champions in all departments of the game. Horses entered in the seven daily races include the cream of bay Meadows Tanforan and other western stables. Livestock, to have a separate establishment this year, is the choice of Yuba and Sutter county ranches.

No single feature of the great show, however, is more interesting than the troop of Imperial Russian Cossacks who arrived this week to polish off their training in the local scene. This spectacular entry is only one of a dozen sensational features that will add to the contests in the arena and on the track to attract thousands to the new stampede plant and its standard, half mile race course.

Marysville has been converted into a real carnival center for the reception of its friends and Stampede enthusiasts from all parts of the state. A Mardi Gras tone will prevail throughout the week, climaxing on Friday night in the public coronation of Rose of the Rancho—queen of the Stampede.

CAMP PAHATSI OPENS IN JULY

A trip to Camp Pahatsi last week end disclosed that it will still be about two weeks before the road into camp will be open to permit preparations to be started for the summer camp sessions starting July 5th with scouts. The advance party will go in to make final preparations July first.

Kilborn Lake is clear of ice and has a great surplus of water. The diving float was damaged by the winter snow and ice. The other camp buildings and equipment suffered only the usual winter wear and tear. It is hoped through the various local camp chairmen to have several week end work days to set camp "to rights" and make some minor improvements.

Camp leadership applications from Scouts are coming in and already early camper applications point to a big camping attendance. Some troops have indicated they will have over 50 per cent of their scouts present. The camp program is being readjusted to make quite a change with nature craft, swimming, and scout tests entering strongly in the scout camp program. Scoutmasters are being asked to recommend scouts who can act as patrol leaders and to indicate what time they themselves can best attend camp with their campers. The definite camp leadership at present includes, S. Partridge, Fred Stephen, Jeff Mooers, Bob Robinson, M. S. Beecher and H. Ricksecker.

CUB PACKS HOLD BIG FIELD DAY

Last Saturday over 100 cubs with their cubmasters, and den chiefs participated in a Cub Field Day at the athletic field of the Placer Union High School. This was the second such meeting and cubs were present from Roseville, Lincoln, Grass Valley, and Auburn. About 80 per cent of the registered membership was present.

The afternoon was filled with cub games and "feats of skill" under the direction of Cub Commissioner Fred Knudsen. So much enthusiasm was evidenced that the leaders were importuned to repeat games so that part of the program was not completed. The new feature, "feats of skill" produced so many challenges and so much interest that it will stimulate all the packs as part of their future programs. The Grass Valley pack was outstanding in this.

Over 60 per cent of the cubs present indicated hopes of attending the cub outdoor week at Camp Pahatsi July 26 to August 2. The mothers present discussed cubbing and made some suggestions as to more definite tie up of cubbing with the home.

LAVA CAP MINE

Work on the 7,500 foot long tunnel between the Central and Banner shafts at the Lava Cap mine southeast of Nevada City, has been placed on a three shift basis. The men are advancing in the work at the rate of 400 feet per month. Superintendent Otto E. Schiffner stated this work will be completed in six months or in half the time it would require at the old rate. The tonnage per day for both mines has been increased to about 300 tons with 220 men employed. In the short period of three years this mine has become second to the Murchie mine which is the largest producer in the Nevada City field.

BICYCLING GIRL HURT

Little Betty Dudley, aged 12 years who fell from a bicycle striking her temple, at North Columbia and who has been in the Nevada City Sanitarium for a few days under observation, was able to leave for her home Monday.

Dr. A. H. Tickell, attending physician, stated she was considerably improved and it is thought no ill effects will be suffered from the accident.

THIS TOWN OF OURS

(By FRANCIS BRADFORD)

Because I hear the song of swaying pines:
A melody which blends its sweet refrains
With basso boom and roar of golden mines;
Because I could not thrill to lesser strains,
I love this town of ours.

Because I like the people here the best,
And do not seek in vain a friendly hand
From men whose fathers built this Golden West—
Because here dwell the folks I understand,
I love this town of ours.

Because in Wintertime, the cool caress
Of Nature adds a crispness to the air,
Yet causes not a snowbound wilderness,
Because its equal lies not anywhere,
I love this town of ours.

Because the Summer brings the friendly sun;
A gem in azure set—a glowing jewel
Whose radiance is shared by everyone;
Because each sparkling night is still and cool.
I love this town of ours.

Because God gave the best he had to build
This paradise of mountains, lakes and trees,
To leave the hearts of we who live here thrilled,
Because God gave his best to give us these,
I love this town of ours.

SAN GABRIEL MISSION WAS FOUNDED, 1771

Responding to a petition from Father Junipero Serra, Viceroy Carlos Francisco de Croix in the fall of 1770 sent from his Mexican headquarters permission to establish in California the fourth of the Franciscan missions. The new station was to be under the patronage of St. Gabriel, the Archangel, and Fr. Serra and Captain Pedro Fagas, the military commander, decided to locate it near the Rio de Nombre de Jesus de los Temblors (River of Earthquakes), a name given to the Rio de Santa Ana when the Portola expedition of 1769 camped upon the banks of that stream.

This mission, founded on Setember 8, 1771, and named San Gabriel Archangel was near a site that later became the city of Los Angeles, and was to be one of five situated about one day's travel a part north of San Diego.

Two padres, Fr. Pedro Benito Cambon and Fr. Angel Somera, were chosen to build the new mission, later known as "Pride of the Missions"; and on August 6, 1771, with a guard of ten soldiers, these two marched out of San Diego. In view of the tragic events, that came to pass at San Gabriel, due to mistreatment of the Indians by brutal Spanish soldiers, it is interesting to read Father Francisco Palou's account of the founding of the mission as given by Fr. Zephyrin Englehardt, historian of California missions.

"They traveled toward the north," says Father Palou, speaking of the priests and their military escort, "on the road taken by the expedition of 1769. After marching about forty leagues, they arrived at the Rio de los Temblores. Just as they were deliberating about the choice of a site, a great multitude of savages, armed and headed by two chiefs, appeared and with frightful yells attempted to prevent the founding of the mission.

"Fearing that a battle might ensue and that some might be killed, one of the Fathers produced a canvas picture of Our Lady of Sorrows and put it in view of the savages. No sooner had he done this than all, overcome by the sight of the beautiful image, threw down their bows and arrows. The two chiefs quickly ran up to lay at the feet of the Sovereign Queen as tokens of their greatest esteem the beads they wore on the neck. By the same action they manifested their desire to be at peace with us. They called upon all the neighboring rancherias who in large numbers flocked together, men, women and children, and came to see the Most Holy Virgin. They also brought seeds, which they left at the feet of the Most Holy Lady, imagining that she would eat like the rest."

Father Palou records that "the sight of the image of our Lady transformed the savages around Mission San Gabriel so that they made frequent visits to the Fathers" and, following the first holy mass celebrated under the shelter of boughs on September 8, assisted the padres in building a chapel, buildings and stockade.

With such an auspicious beginning toward mutual understanding it is a pity that the very soldiers sent to assist the priests, should have been the ones to undo the good work done by the missionaries. Just when the Indians were going in large numbers to Mission San Gabriel, one of the soldiers outraged the wife of one of the chiefs, and in an ensuing clash between the natives and armed guards, the chief was killed. For a long time the Indians remained away from the Fathers and it was not until the offending soldier was transferred to Monterey that their confidence in the padres was restored.

This incident, Fr. Engelhardt claims, delayed the founding of Mission San Buenaventura for twelve years, Commandante Fages fearing to send any soldiers from San Gabriel north to assist in establishing another missionary station.

Visiting San Gabriel in September 1772, Father Serra was delighted to find that a number of Indian children had been baptised, including the small son of the slain chief, but excesses being committed by the soldiers against the natives, caused Junipero personally to complain to the Viceroy of Mexico, with the result that the military commander of California was specifically ordered to cease all interference with the padres and their neophytes.

Routine of San Gabriel was interrupted on March 22, 1774, by the arrival of Captain Juan Bautista Anza and the weary and hungry members of his expedition who, after many hardships, had found their way from Sonora, Mexico to the mission in carrying out instructions to locate a route from Sonora to Monterey. They crossed the Sierra through San Jacinto Pass. Discovery of this overland way led Viceroy Bucareli the following year to send out a new expedition from Sonora whose purpose was to found a presidio, mission and colony at San Francisco.

For two years Mission San Gabriel occupied itself more or less serenely with its spiritual and temporal work and then in 1776 the establishment was removed to its present location and construction of new buildings undertaken. In 1796 the small chapel was replaced with a larger church which, in turn, in 1800 was superseded by the existing building of stone, mortar and brick. In that year there were 1,078 neophytes at the mission, 1,953 had been baptised, 869 had been buried and 396 couples married.

In 1776, Father Serra stopped at the mission on his way from founding the Missions San Juan Capistrano and records disclose that he baptized an Indian child there on December 11 of that year. Two years later, November 4, 1778, Junipero confirmed at the mission for the first time.

New troubles with the natives began in 1779 when Governor Felipe de Neve, an enemy of the missions, decreed that convert Indians at every mission should annually elect two alcaldes and two regidores or councilman and vest them with control of the neophytes. Unfitted for self government, the San Gabriel Indians became insolent to both the priests and soldiers And then in July and August, 1781, two contingents of soldiers and settlers arrived from Sonora and from then on throughout the founding of the pueblo of Los Angeles, there were frequent clashes between the padres and the Indians on the one hand and the soldiers and settlers on the other.

At the age of 68 years, Father Serra made a trip from Monterey to San Gabriel in February-March 1782, to discuss with Governor Neve the founding of Mission San Buenaventura and Mission Santa Barbara and on his way back north after a second visit in October, 1873, he officiated at 233 confirmations at San Gabriel, bringing the number of persons confirmed there by him to 866. By the year 1790, San Gabriel surpassed all missions in livestock and farm products and was second only to San Antonio in the number of neophytes.

An earthquake in 1804 did considerable damage to the new church and mission buildings, but construction proceeded steadily in spite of more or less continuous disputes between the padres and settlers over mission and Indian lands and increasing maladies to which the Indians fell heir as a result of association with the colonists. An incipient revolt among the natives was quelled in November 1810.

The earthquake of December 8, 1812 demolished the church tower and did other damage, but the priests made repairs and continued their building program, completing a hospital in 1814. In 1813 the neophyte population was 1,600.

With the aid of the San Gabriel padres and their Indians, the pueblo of Los Angeles was enabled to build the Church of Our Lady of the Angels, which stands today in the center of the city of Los Angeles. It was completed about 1822.

Juniors Win Picnic At Lake Olympia

Having earned a greater number of points in school activities through out the year than any other class, the Juniors of the Nevada City high school were dismissed Wednesday afternoon to enjoy a picnic at Lake Olympia. The competition, announced early in the school year, included all of the activities in which the four classes were invited to partake, the winner being chosen as the most active of the group.

B C. Barron, advisor of the class, accompanied them and the entire group enjoyed an afternoon of swimming, dancing and boating. Refreshments were served the members of the party in mid-afternoon, and they returned to Nevada City in early evening.

John Harding, president of the class, supervised the committees in charge of the occasion. The entertainment of the afternoon was in charge of Todd Bonner and Phil Joyal, while Ruth Curnow headed the committee on foods.

Life Certificate for Charter Members

Meeting for the last time of the school year, the Nevada City high service club, boys' organization at the local high school, enjoyed lunch and heard an interesting program yesterday noon in the high school auditorium. This group united following the Older Boys' Conference this year, and organibed a club to be a permanent part of high school life in years to come.

The program which was presented follows: Vocal quartet, John Kron, Todd Bonner, Phil Joyal, Tom Rickard; piona solo, B. C. Barron; violin solo, Oscar Odegaard, Jr.; humorous reading, Bill Polkinghorn.

Citizens wishing to purchase copies of the annual should notify the high school at once

Lobbying for Favorite Candidates

Political campaigning has become an exciting part of high school life during these last weeks of the school year with student elections for next year's student body officers taking place next week. Posters and circulars advertising the merits of the various candidates have been well distributed at the high school by campaign managers who are anxious for the success of their choice among the students.

Two new candidates have been named for the respective positions of vice president and secretary. These are Ruth Curnow and Alice Graham. With the addition of these names to the list, opposition for these offices will replace the possibility which existed earlier in the week of a white-ballot election.

SAN GABRIEL

From 1821, when Mexico declared her independence and California became a part of the new republic, San Gabriel suffered as did the other Franciscon missions from oppression by a long line of successive political regimes culminating in secularization and confiscation of the mission in 1834. San Gabriel was especially victimized by Governor Echeandia, who levied upon the missions for many thousands of dollars, provisions and farm products for the soldiery. Governor Micheltorena's action in returning San Gabriel to the Franciscans brought only a brief respite to the padres for when Pio Pico became governor their troubles multiplied. On June 8, 1846, Pico sold the mission to Hugo P. Reid and William Workman. A month later, the American flag was raised at Monterey, too late to save San Gabriel from the destruction wrought by greedy Mexican politicians. President Lincoln returned San Gabriel to the Catholic church in 1865.

Self sacrificing padres carried on at San Gabriel, caring for the few Indians left in the vicinity until 1908, when San Gabriel was turned over to the "Missionary Sons of the Immaculate Heart of Mary," an order that was founded in Spain in 1849. The old mission has been beautifully restored and its activities increased greatly during the last three decades.

Motorists desiring to visit San Gabriel from Los Angeles should proceed from the downtown section of the southern metropolis, cut north Broadway to Huntington Drive, keeping on the left hand side of the road which leads into the community of Alhambra. At the eastern limits of Alhambra the visitors should turn right at Mission Road and proceed two blocks to the mission.

San Gabriel also is reached via the Pacific Electric Railway from Los Angeles city points. Directions may be obtained at the Electric Depot, 6th and Main streets. The distance from the heart of downtown Los Angeles to the mission is about 12 miles.

60 Candles On A Great, Big Cake

During the past week the Nevada County Narrow Gauge Railroad celebrated its 60th year of service to Grass Valley and Nevada City. Three score years of faithful adherence to constructive policies; of unlimited energy; of adoption to scientific improvements and modern transportation methods.

Sixty glowing candles. Each representing a year of tireless effort that the people and firms and mines and farms of Nevada County might have a smooth, steel path running from their door to the outside world.

We believe that during May of 1876 and May of 1936, we have given our Grass Valley and Nevada City neighbors a service in transportation and freight carrying of which they may be proud. And we share that pride with them. For it has been the every-day aim of the Nevada County Narrow Gauge Railroad to give the best of its ability. There's conscientious effort of endeavor in our entire institution—from throbbing beat of busy locomotives to the cheerful courtesies of our section employees.

The sand of the Hour Glass of Time trickles on with unending persistence. Now—sixty years after the golden spike has been welded into the community home life of the twin cities—we renew our sincere pledge:

TO GIVE YOU THE BEST OF OUR LOYALTY IN RETURN FOR YOUR LOYALTY TO US!

FARM PROGRAM OFFICERS CHOSEN

Nevada county farmers met at Peardale Farm Center, May 20 and Indian Springs Schoolhouse, May 21 to elect officers of the Community Committee which will take part in the local administration of the new Agricultural Conservation program, according to F. E. Gordon, emergency assistant in agricultural extension.

All farmers and owners of farms who attended became members of the Nevada-Yuba County Agricultural Conservation association. Under the old adjustment programs, participants had to sign applications. Now they merely need to show that they are farmers and operators and to register in the community. Those who registered became eligible to vote at township and community meetings and at elections for committeemen.

As soon as organized, the chairman of each community group automatically became a member of the board of directors of the County Agricultural Conservation association.

The Agricultural Conservation program in Nevada county will be administered by the bi-county agricultural conservation association through the county committee and community working in cooperation with the assistant county farm advisor, Mr. Gordon, whose headquarters are at Post Office Building, Marysville, in Yuba county.

Community E, met at Indian Springs schoolhouse, Thursday night May 21, at 8 p. m. C. J. Rolph, Jr., acted as temporary chairman.

The following officers were elected. E. A. Breckenridge, chairman, W. E. Odell, vice chairman, D. M. Loney, additional member of committee, and W. B. Sweet, alternate.

Community E embraces Supervisorial Districts 1 and 4.

ST. JOHNS PROPERTY

Superintendent Ed C. Jacobs stated work of reopening the old shaft of the St. John mine which has been closed about 50 years, started Tuesday. Plans of his company are to sink 2,000 feet, developing and opening up a splendid lot of ore, and bring in another large producer. Three large veins that are known to yield good gold values in other properties run through the St. John ground, among them being the Empire and Cole veins. The St. John property of several hundred acres is located north of Grass Valley.

Mrs. W. OHara of Willow Valley motored to San Francisco yesterday with Mrs. Walter Hawkins. Mrs. O'Hara went to attend the graduation exercises of the Dominican Convent at San Rafael. Her daughter is a member of the graduating class.
